

Fordham Challenge: Where Corporate Jets, Lust and Revenge Cross Paths

The Fordham Challenge provides the reader with an entertaining look into the world of corporate aviation and the many personalities found therein. In the beginning the reader finds himself or herself in the preparation for a flight in the fastest corporate jet built, the Citation Ten. The protagonist, Derek Sieger and a main supporting character, Elle Welch prepared the trip from Fordham, Illinois to the Los Angeles International Airport. While the crew remained in Los Angeles, the primary conflict was revealed. A drug smuggling land developer, Aaron Perte, with sour feelings toward aviation planned to demolish the Fordham Airport and construct a revolutionary design shopping mall in its place. Incompetent contract management by the airport board and Aaron blackmailing the Governor of Illinois, Patricia Stamler, allow Aaron to pursue his demonic goal. Aaron concocted an elaborate scheme to smuggle enormous quantities of cocaine into the United States with converted military reconnaissance vehicles the TESTIS. The radar and infrared defeating vehicles ushered a continual flow of the controlled substance into the country. The participants in this conflict changed venues to Texas, Columbia and a Caribbean smuggling ship. Interwoven into the story the reader encountered lusty activities, youth baseball games, social services, aircraft in distress, kidnapping, murder, family secrets, embezzlement, contract killers and a variety of additional plot developing adventures. The story raced to an energetic conclusion and left the reader hungry for more.
